

A globe constructed from a grid of numerous small, square video screens. Each screen displays a different, colorful scene, likely from various video games or movies, creating a mosaic of digital imagery. The screens are arranged in a way that they collectively form the shape of a sphere.

WORLD FLIX PROGRAMS

Through micro-granting, World Flix empowers the global citizen to make a profound difference in the quality of life for people. By hosting videos of social programs from across the globe, World Flix provides a safe, online funding portal for donors (at any level) to review and watch over multiple, charitable programs in real time. Transcending traditional models of philanthropy, World Flix programs integrate education, youth social entrepreneurship, and non-profit capacity building with user-based technology.

World Flix operates its programs to (1) increase inclusion of youth and individuals in philanthropy, and to (2) increase the efficiency of donor giving through micro-grants as follows:

FLIX IT! - VIDEO DONOR PORTAL FOR MICRO-GRANTS

Online users can watch videos and review the scope of a humanitarian project to grant to. Then, after choosing to give, they can participate further by watching videos during the implementation phase and the “post project evaluation” phase. Realistically, one donor may contribute to multiple projects simultaneously and be able to watch video footage from their phone that follows along – on a daily basis. This connects agencies and their clients to supporters, actively engages the global community in imminent issues, and utilizes “democratic philanthropy” to allocate funding. Through Flix It, World Flix establishes a new definition of the “global philanthropic community” by bridging age, socioeconomic background, and cultural and philosophical diversity.

WORLD FLIX INTERNS - SOCIAL ENTREPRENEURSHIP & LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT

The principal goal of the World Flix internship program is to inspire students to pursue careers in philanthropy and innovate in social entrepreneurship, becoming life-long contributors to humanity. Consequently, World Flix demonstrates that integrating education, philanthropy and technology can bridge and narrow the gap between education and humanitarian applications of knowledge.

World Flix also aims to improve the quality of education by providing unique opportunities for students to apply their curriculum to real time implementation of social programs – witnessing their impact on others within one semester!
